Lufthansa Technik AG Reception Building

As the center and entrance area, the reception building of the Lufthansa base in Hamburg presents itself to the visitor and serves as the company's new landmark and business card.

Together with the redesign of the entire area around the former police station, the entrance area was staged with a glass and light installation and a new traffic concept.

On this complex construction project, OPM was called in at a critical time. OPM was able to successfully complete the project within a very tight timeframe.
